Floral Topiaries....

Hi, Welcome to The Rittners School of Floral Design in Boston, Ma.

It is a pleasure to present “Floral Topiaries”

Table top topiaries of flowers are remarkable floral pieces.

They are the floral art descendants of the shrubs and/or plants that have been cultivated and trimmed for outdoor ornamental horticulture use for many centuries...

Many bush topiaries have been created in a huge range of geometrical shapes, even in the form of mazes and cartoon characters....

Typically when stylized as floral pieces they tend to be created in spherical shapes impaled on a rod of some kind, and placed into a container base.. There are, of course, many variations upon this theme....

It was fun creating these various pieces, photographing and putting them into this ebook. It was a collective effort from the entire Rittner Floral team. On behalf of all of us on the teaching staff here at Rittners Floral School, we hope that you enjoy our modest efforts.

Dr. Stephen Rittner
Rittners Floral School,

Table top topiaries may be used in a wide range of contexts--which adds to their appeal!

As a table centerpiece	On a sideboard	On an end table
As a mantle Decoration	Use multiple topiaries along a long mantle	In an entry or reception area of a business
In a bay window	As a coffee table design	For Weddings on a table with seating cards.
For Weddings on a table where gifts are placed	On an altar (multiple designs can be placed)	Place holder on a dining room table
Bedroom arrangement	Hotel lobby design (multiples work well)	As a design in an upscale bathroom
Themed for holidays like Thanksgiving or Christmas	Made in polychromatic mixtures or as a monochrome	Wall to wall flowers or flowers interspersed with foliage.
